
Subject: Re: Electronic versions of B5 books
Posted by StarFuryG7 on Thu, 15 Nov 2012 06:14:01 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On Nov 14, 7:38 pm, Jan <janmschroe...@aol.com> wrote:

>
> The ONLY slightly snarky bit of her entire lengthy post was the last four words of the last paragraph. And incredibly mild snark at that. If it were me, I'd have called a spade a spade and called you a raving paranoiac. But that's just me. <

Uh huh --stick that with your own tiny violin while you're at it.

I've grown accustomed to your blinders by the way.

And clearly nothing rude or impolite about your insults obviously ...in fact, your manure smells like roses, doesn't it?

Of course it does ...and next you'll be a candidate for sainthood as a matter of fact.

> Believe me, while we appreciate her entirely volunteer efforts, most of us simply don't think much about the mechanics of moderation at all. And as you say, speculative reasons were given. It's not as if this discussion is either an investigation or trial. We gave information on possible reasons based on past experience. <

Right --all of which omitted a moderator somehow being at fault obviously, which turned out to be the case. So when you get right down to it, I was actually correct as to why at least one post never showed up here. So Jan, where is the "apology" from you? Come on, let's see you "man up".

Yeah, didn't think so.

>
> Oh, you do. But it's your karmic debt to accrue so do as you will. <

If being less than polite to a few snobs on a message board is the worst I have to worry about in terms of karma, I'd say I'm not doing all that bad obviously.

> Must be rough carrying every grudge and imagined slight around all the time. <

Or maybe there really is something to be said about the company here.

I'm definitely going with the latter.

>
> Now then...how about you either drop it or talk about the actual thread topic?

>
> Jan

I'll tell you what--by all means feel free to do that yourself.
