Hello there. I'm a TRS-80 user from long, long ago (I'm still running on a Model 1 with the original smooth-key keyboard and an Expansion Interface with a buffered cable) and I used to make it a point to buy the new games from Big Five as they came out because they were so well done. However, I somehow or other didn't get around to buying the last one in the series, "Weerd!". (Probably because I went off to college and didn't bring the TRS with me.) And now no one sells it!

So what I'm asking is whether anyone out there would be willing to give me a copy of "Weerd!". I really don't think this is piracy, because Big Five seems to have vanished, and RS is controlling a bunch of their games, but not Weerd...

P.S. I'm posting this article through a good friend of mine's account because the only Vax I'm on is sadly isolated from readnews (although I can send and receive netmail there). So if you respond to this article, please mail to "samson%h-sc4@harvard.ARPA", and please don't try to send a reply to this article's apparent origin. Thanks!
