I read in an article today in the paper that Shatner has "reconciled" himself with Kirk, and has no problems with playing the character. In fact, he says, with the grasp the producers have of the characters, and the fact that the movies can be made for between $10 and $15 million each (relatively cheap for A movies), he could see "50 more Star Trek movies, released over 18-month periods"....

No complaints here!!!

"Those who travel with him.... must be crazy."
